

2019-01-03 EC Meeting Summary

executive-committee

Bargaining: We're preparing for an economic reopening with administration in March. Check the Weekly Update for information about the bargaining process and how you can be an active part of it, and literally, have a seat at the table.

Comp and class study: The review of consultants' work is still in process and it's possible that this work may be complete by early spring.

Constitution review: The Constitution Committee continues its work with chair, Kyle Schmidt. Members will have an opportunity to review the proposed changes in the coming weeks and are invited to ask questions, attend committee meetings and help with the rewrite. No official changes will be made without a vote of membership. We are hopeful that we'll have an election before the end of the spring term. For more information on how you can help, contact Kyle (schmidtk@lanecc.edu) or an officer of your choice.
